

Edgemont Accepting Reservations

BY TOM ROSS

The developers of Edgemont, a new slopeside residential project, have begun taking “exclusive priority reservations” for 42 one- to five-bedroom units being released this season.

Construction of the first phase of the luxury condominium buildings is set to begin this summer. Completion of the first release is anticipated during the 2009-10 ski season. Prices begin in the $800,000 range and increase to more than $2.5 million.

An exclusive priority reservation does not obligate buyers to purchase, Director of Sales Mark Murrell said. But, it gives them the opportunity to purchase during a one-day selection event early this summer.

“It is important to get involved now in order to be in the best position to select your residence in Edgemont,” Murrell said.

The Edgemont Real Estate Preview Center is open daily in the shops at the base of the Steamboat Grand Hotel, next to Chocolate Soup.
